It is the $ vs. God; might vs. right; force vs. justice; Empire vs. Republic—all embodied in one momentous cause. Can a jury of freeborn Americans hesitate in the verdict?

"These works will close if Bryan is elected." Such is the notice given by the lying trust bosses who so love the workingman that they want to own him, body, soul and breeches.

Within the last week three of the biggest trusts in the United States have thrown 5,700 men out of employment in Chicago alone. "There are no trusts," says Hanna, and "The Full Dinner Pail" is the symbol of the party he bosses.

On the high authority of the Chicago Tribune, chief organ of prosperity and McKinley's most devoted defender, it is stated that Mr. Bryan has the support of "every one that is in distress and every one that is in debt and every one that is discontented." This naturally leaves Major McKinley with only the support of the trusts.

THERE is high treason rampant among the Republican organs. The noble major tells us in his letter that labor was never happier. Yet here are the Chicago Tribune and other champions of trusts and imperialism denouncing Mr. Bryan for appealing to the discontented. How can he appeal to the discontented if there be no discontent?

THE Troy Press lucidly states the case of that prosperity which war induces: "It is said that war makes money plentiful. Temporarily, just as it does for a man who owns a fine house and slaps a mortgage on it. He can revel in the luxuries for a season, but when the time to pay it, plus the interest, rolls along—well, that's different. Fool he is who imagines that the war and enormous destruction of property and young men tends to enrich the world. Reason repudiates this frightful fallacy."

"I would tear the mask from that hypocrite William J. Bryan." So insolently says the shameless Boss who has done more to corrupt American politics than all other men and agencies combined since the formation of the Republic; who owes his seat in the Senate to the baldest and boldest corruption; whose standing in his party is made by the immense corruption funds he raises and the unmeasured audacity with which he employs them. All hail to Mark Hanna, the frontless traducer of Wm. Jennings Bryan!

"THERE is no Imperialism—no Militarism!" yell Hanna and his truckling spongelivers. But the people know of Porto Rico and the Philippines, and the Court d'Alene outrages are not a sealed book to them. The Hannanite liars may call the one Expansion and the other Law-and-Order, as we sometimes say kleptomaniac for thief; yet the crime is the same. And thousands of Republicans who are, first of all, Americans, recognize the crimes of the administration against the Republic, call them by whatever names you will.

This item from the Springfield Republican is a nut that contains some solid meat:

In calling attention to the Christian sack of Tien-Tsin, the Republican said that full reports from Peking were not in. Details, however, are beginning to arrive. In an associated Press dispatch it is stated: "The ministers remain in Peking. The city has been entirely looted except the palace, and auction sales of loot, in which valuable silks, furs and bronzes are the principal articles are held daily. The chief bidders at these sales are army officers." Take facts as they are, and you find that pious and civilized Christians have looted two rich Chinese cities within two months, while all that can be said of the Philippines in this respect is that they might have looted Manila, although they actually did not loot its sister city of Iloilo when they had a chance. The argument is, of course, that the Filipino "savages" were incapable of self-government.

Typical of the Trusts.

There is no occasion for surprise at the discovery that the big trusts of the country are boldly striving to coerce traveling salesmen into voting the Republican ticket by making their conditional propositions of employment "subject to the election of McKinley."

It must be remembered that the monopoly corporations which now own the Republican party do not hold themselves subject to the rules of fair play or just dealing in attaining desired ends. Their cardinal principle is to crush their antagonist—by foul means if no other will serve the purpose. They have become used to the practical application of this principle in wrecking and destroying individual enterprises which came into competition with them during the progress of their monopolies to that perfection of control of trade which they now enjoy. They will either bend the traveling salesmen to their will or destroy them as they have destroyed the small dealers in the commercial world. And the destruction of the traveling salesman in the end is certain, anyway.

This matter of compelling commercial travelers to vote for McKinley is a plain business proposition to the trusts. The great monopolies are not working for the Republican party or for Mr. McKinley or for any political principle. They are working for the trusts, first, last and all the time. The Republican party is pledged through Mark Hanna, to govern and legislate for the trusts. Owing to this agreement the success of the Republican party is desired by the trusts. The principle of the thing is that the trusts hope to gain place in office in Washington an "agency board," consisting of the President and his Cabinet, holding power and high position for the distinctly understood purpose of serving the trusts.

Commercial travelers must vote for McKinley if the will of the trusts is to prevail. A majority of the American people must be fooled into doing the same thing if the money of the trusts may prevail. The trusts regard their control of the American Government as a business necessity. They are employing typical trust methods to retain that control.—St. Louis Republic.

From Goodwater.

Ed. Register—Scarcely any rain has fallen hereabouts during the past month; consequently the fields are so dry that it is difficult to plow in them. In fact, some farmers have not tried to plow for some time, hoping, from day to day, that we would at last have ground-soaking rains once more. Grain that was sowed two weeks ago is germinating very slowly and that is so before that time is growing but feebly. The unseasonably hot weather that prevailed here during much of the past month did no little to thoroughly dry out the soil.

Much immature fruit—especially apples and peaches—has fallen and in many places, a considerable portion of the fruit rotted on the trees; consequently, many orchards that were expected to yield abundantly, are almost bare of sound fruit and farmers who counted upon having a goodly quantity of fruit to sell, will not have enough for home consumption. Sorghum-making has been in progress in this locality during the past ten days. The yield is generally satisfactory.

On Aug. 31st, the four-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crocker, that died at home, near Clones, a few days before that time, was buried at the Abbot Grave-yard in this vicinity.

Died—At her home, near Tolu, on Sept. 2d, 1900, Mrs. Wm. Miller. Cause of death, senile debility. She was born in Tennessee, on Dec. 3d, 1827; hence she was nearly 73 years of age when she died. She and her husband moved into Iron County soon after it was organized and continued to live there until her death. Her remains were buried in Pleasant Grove Cemetery, near Tolu. Her husband and six children—four sons and two daughters—were numerous other relatives, mourn her death.

On the 6th inst., while H. R. Henderson was seated on a log, about seven feet from the ground, at Crocker's Saw Mill, he saw a board that had just been sawed suddenly approaching him; to avoid being struck by it, he threw himself off the log, falling on a scantling; the board struck him in the abdomen and inflicted a painful injury. He was hauled to his home at Burgundy and soon recovered sufficiently to attend to business.

Born—On Sept. 14th, to the wife of Harvey Wilbrite, a son. During the night following, a son was born to the wife of Samuel Crocker.

Jas. A. Payne went to Palmer on business on the 15th inst. He has bought the interests of all the other heirs in the old Edward Payne, Sr., homestead.

John G. Yount and family, on the 20th instant, moved to the farm he recently bought near Ironton.

Harvey Wilbrite has sold to James M. Lucas the grist-mill and ground adjoining which he recently acquired from Newton Short. The property was formerly known as Crocker's Mill.

Dallas Crocker has been employed as miller. Mr. Lucas, who owns considerable property adjoining the above-mentioned lot, intends, it is said, to erect a dwelling-house and will then move his family, household goods and merchandise thereto.

Miss Allie Alcorn and her brother visited relatives and friends near Keysville on the 7th instant, and Miss Letha Moyall visited her parents at Bellevue recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sansouci, of De Soto, and Miss Sallie Wood, of near Tolu, visited relatives hereabouts during the past month.

Sept. 29th, 1900. R. E.

"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Massing, of Beaumont, Texas. There are many thousands of mothers whose children have been saved from attacks of dysentery and cholera infantum who must also feel thankful. It is for sale by Arcadia Valley Drug Co.

Coughed 25 Years.
I suffered for 25 years with a cough, and spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and for medicine to no avail until I used Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. This remedy makes weak lungs strong. It saved my life.—J. B. Rosell, Grantsburg, Ill.

Mann, Mo.
A good rain fell here Friday night, which was very beneficial to farmers who were not through sowing wheat. J. G. Hartman went to Ironton Saturday.

Walter Black visited at Mann Saturday and Sunday, the guest of P. D. Hartman.

Quite a number of our young people attended church at Belgrade Sunday. Thos. Goggin, of Lesterville, visited here Thursday night.

G. C. Newman was carrier for "Uncle Sam" Saturday.

Dr. J. Q. Adams, of Bellevue, made a professional trip to Jno. Twomey's Saturday. Mr. T. has a very bad hand.

Mrs. A. S. Coker, of St. Louis, will arrive to-day and visit her daughter, Mrs. P. D. Hartman this week.

Mr. James Webb, of St. Louis, had business in this section Saturday.

Mr. Sol. Nelson passed here Sunday on his way to Graniteville and Ironton.

Miss Ada Parmer, who is teaching at Pine Grove, visited home folks at Ironton Saturday.
